If you're anything like me, you've probably got a ton of ideas for new projects or businesses in your head. And, you're probably sure that they're winning ideas too. But, the harsh reality is: ideas alone will rarely get you anywhere. What really matters is the way that you execute those ...How to Set SMART Goals. SMART is an acronym that represents a framework for creating effective goals. It stands for five qualities your goals should have. They should be specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound. The SMART...Lastly and most importantly, setting SMART goals saves time (which means it also saves money). When dealing with keeping a team aligned on a project, think about the amount of questions that are asked, meetings that are had, and time that is wasted due to the lack of centralized information.
