The Continuity Irish Republican Army, usually known as the Continuity IRA (CIRA; Irish: Óglaigh na hÉireann Leanúnach, IRA Leanúnach, IRA Leanúnachais) is an Irish republican paramilitary group that claims to be the armed forces of the Irish Republic that was proclaimed in 1916. It aims to bring about a united Ireland. It emerged from a split in the Provisional IRA in 1986 but did not ...

United Kingdom - The heptarchy:
When Northumbria became eminent in scholarship, its age of political importance was over. This political dominance had begun when Aethelfrith, ruling over the united Northumbrian kingdoms of Bernicia and Deira, defeated the Dalriadic Scots at Degsastan in 603 and the Welsh at Chester in 613–616. Aethelfrith was himself defeated and killed in 616 by Edwin, the ...

The Troubles (Irish: Na Trioblóidí) was an ethno-nationalist conflict in Northern Ireland during the late 20th century. Also known internationally as the Northern Ireland conflict, it is sometimes described as an "irregular war" or "low-level war". The conflict began in the late 1960s and is usually deemed to have ended with the Good Friday Agreement of 1998. 'It was a river of blood and ash fell like snow' new. A little after 8.30am at St Anthony's church, Easter mass was in full swing when the first of eight explosions on a...
