

Download Unit 8 Psychological Perspectives M2 D1

M2 – compare two psychological approaches to health and social care service provision. D1 – evaluate two psychological approaches to health and social care service provision. However some differences are that the behaviourism perspective is founded on observation physical stimuli and responses that are measured in some ways. Behaviourist use science to look at everything but the psychodynamic approach looks at assumptions. Psychodynamic approach is bias and can not be generalised. Unit 8: Psychological Perspectives for Health and Social Care. M2 compare two psychological approaches to health and social care service provision. D1 evaluate two psychological approaches to health and social care service provision. In this section of my work I will be explain the psychological perspectives in health and social care. Unit 8 - M2 D1 This essay covers M2 and D1 of Unit 8 Psychology, and compares and evaluates two psychological approaches to health and social care service provision. Unit 8: Psychological Perspectives for Health and Social Care. Punishers: Responses from the environment that decrease the likelihood of a behaviour being repeated. Punishment weakens behaviour – negative reinforcement An example of operant conditioning is when a child is doing well at school and is rewarded for it,...